However, certain electronic communications between us and you are necessary for usage of our Services including login notifications, withdrawal confirmations, deposit notifications and 2-Factor Authentication (this can be replaced with Google Authenticator, Authy, or Trezor). We highly recommend that you do not turn off 2-Factor Authentication as this provides the maximum amount of security for your account.

We take various administrative, physical and electronic measures designed to safeguard and protect your Personal Data from unauthorized access or disclosure. This includes utilizing Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) software, which encrypts the Personal Data you input, and storing your Personal Data in encrypted form behind a firewall designed to block access from outside our network. However, no security or encryption method can be guaranteed to protect information from hackers or human error, no computer security system is entirely fool-proof, and the Internet is not a fully secure method of transmitting information. As a result, we cannot guarantee that loss, misuse, unauthorized acquisition, or alteration of your Personal Data will not occur. Furthermore, we cannot ensure or warrant the security or confidentiality of Personal Data you transmit to us or receive from us by Internet or wireless connection, including email, phone, or SMS, since we have no way of protecting that Personal Data once it leaves and until it reaches us.

Please recognize that you play a vital role in protecting your own Personal Data. We will only retain your Personal Data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which we collected it, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting obligations or to resolve disputes. This is a case-by-case determination that depends on things such as the nature of the data, why it is collected and processed, and relevant legal or operational retention needs. We also keep certain Personal Data where necessary to protect the safety, security and integrity of our Services, customers, and users. For example, we may retain certain Personal Data for accounting and security purposes even after our business relationship with you has ceased. We may need to maintain records for a significant period of time after you cease being our client for legal or regulatory reasons, for example, when we need to retain Personal Data to help manage a dispute or legal claim. Additionally, we are subject to certain anti-money laundering laws which may require us to retain your Personal Data for a period of time after our business relationship with you has ended.

- Right to complain. You may lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority.

Automated Decision-Making

We may engage in automated decision-making for purposes of risk and fraud detection. When we do, we implement suitable measures to safeguard your rights and freedoms and legitimate interests, including the right to obtain human intervention, to express your point of view and to contest the decision.

When handling requests to exercise European privacy rights, we check the identity of the requesting party to ensure that they are the person legally entitled to make such a request. While we endeavor to respond to these requests free of charge, should your request be repetitive or unduly onerous, we reserve the right to charge you a reasonable fee for compliance with your request.

Please note that your rights are subject to certain exceptions and conditions. Specifically, we may need to further process and retain your Personal Data to perform a contract with you or your company or organization, to protect our legitimate interests (such as the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims) or to comply with legal requirements. To the extent permitted by law, namely, to protect the rights and freedoms of others or to protect our own legitimate interests, we may therefore refuse to satisfy your request or we may satisfy your request only on a restricted basis.
